HUERTA HAS UNTIL SIX P.M. SUNDAY TO SALUTE

If Mexican Dictator Refuses President Will Ask Authority of Congress to Enforce Blockade.

This is Tantamount to Declaration
of War Which Seems Almost Certainty This Afternoon.

WAY PAVED FOR HOSTILITIES

Wilson Loses All Hope That Huerta
Will Yield to Demands and Preparations Are Made.

(Written for United Press.)

Washington, April 18.—War with Mexico is almost a certainty. Officialdom has practically given up hope of a peaceful settlement of the controversy with the southern republic. The United States has sent its last word. Huerta must salute the American flag in broad daylight with all of the formality required by all international practice aface the United States army and navy.

Huerta has been given until six o'clock Sunday to agree to do so. If he does not, the President on Monday will make history on Capitol Hill.

He will tell of the entire futile attempt to enforce respect for the American flag by diplomacy and will ask that congress authorize a complete blockade of every Mexican port. This afternoon it was almost certain that the authorization will be by the unanimous vote of congress.

The President conferred with cabinet officials in the White House this afternoon, paving the way for the expected hostilities. Not only has he lost all hope that Huerta will yield, but he is now convinced that the United Press uncensored code dispatches yesterday from its staff correspondent at Mexico City, stating that Huerta hoped to force war in a vain hope to extricate himself from his untenable position, was an accurate statement of facts.

This dispatch was the first word official Washington had from an outside source that Huerta was only playing with the American government.

The President's intentions are to obtain full and complete co-operation from congress in every step that is taken from now on. He is forced to go to White Sulphur Springs tonight to bring Mrs. Wilson back to Washington because her condition is such that if he were to send for her, it might result in a nervous breakdown. But he will make the trip within the shortest possible time and will be back at his desk early Monday morning to go on with his task should that be necessary as he now believes.

If he appears before congress in a joint session, the President will tell in detail just what he has done. The President will tell them a specific blockade will be of no avail as it would simply hold up Mexican commerce and would permit foreign ships, which carry the bulk of the trade free entry and outlet. The President intends that the blockade shall be complete in every detail. Not a vessel will be permitted to enter or leave a Mexican port until such time as a complete and ample apology and a renewed promise to "be good" shall come from Mexico.

He believes that this blockade was preliminary to actual hostilities.

COMMANDERS IN MEXICAN WATERS

1, Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger, commanding the Atlantic fleet; 2, Rear Admiral T. B. Howard, commanding the Pacific fleet; 3, Rear Admiral Henry T. Mayo, commanding the fourth division, at Tampico; 4, Rear Admiral Frank F. Fletcher, commanding the first division, at Vera Cruz.

Huerta is expected, the moment a blockade is declared, to hand Charge O'Shaughnessy his passport and formally declare war on the United States.

Nothing is known as to the attitude which the constitutionalists in the north will take, but opinion among high officials is that they will be hostile to the United States. The national Mexican feeling is such that if Carranza and his followers should agree to permit the United States to down Huerta without any interference from them, the Constitutionalists' cause would be crushed.

Unless General Huerta makes complete reparation and salutes the American flag with 21 guns, and announces that he will do so before six o'clock tomorrow evening, this country through its armed forces will compel him to do so.

This was announced at the White House this afternoon when the President stated that if Huerta has not yet decided by that time he will take the matter to congress in person Monday.

Inasmuch as the President is on record as saying that he will ask Congress for authority to use the army against General Huerta, the statement that he is prepared to go to congress of necessity means at least an armed blockade of Mexican ports which, it is agreed, is tantamount to a declaration of war.

The official statement as issued at the White House is as follows:

"General Huerta is still insisting upon doing something less than has been demanded and something less than what constitutes an acknowledgment that his representatives were entirely in the wrong in the indignities they have put upon the government of the United States. The President has determined that if General Huerta has not yielded by six o'clock Sunday afternoon, he will take the matter to congress on Monday."

A simultaneous salute was still demanded by Huerta today. It will be refused by this government. This is taken to mean almost certain war measures.

The statement was made by a high administration officer today. Huerta

Developments of Day in Mexican Situation

United States with its armed forces will compel Huerta to salute the American flag with 21 guns if he does not decide to do so by tomorrow night at 6 o'clock.

In case of Huerta's refusal to make complete reparation for Tampico incident, President will take matter before congress Monday. This means an armed blockade of Mexican ports which is practically the same as a declaration of war.

Huerta insists that Mexico will not salute except under the gun-for-gun plan. Charge O'Shaughnessy cabled to refuse Dictator's request.

Evidence of preparation for war was noted at the army and navy departments.

Armored cruiser proceeds from Puget Sound to San Diego and will pick up marines at Mare Island.

insists that Mexico shall not salute except under the gun-for-gun plan. Secretary Bryan cabled Charge O'Shaughnessy absolutely to refuse to accede to Huerta's request. It is believed that President Wilson has set a time limit. It is expected he will announce the text of his demand on Huerta this afternoon.

Sensational evidence of preparation for hostilities were noted at both the war and navy department almost immediately after the return of the President to the White House.

Secretary Bryan and Secretary Tumulty carrying Charge O'Shaughnessy's latest message from Huerta, which is known to be another quibble, rushed post haste in a high-powered automobile from the state department to a golf course in Virginia today where the President was playing golf.

Just before Tumulty started, he conferred with Postmaster General Burleson, one of the cabinet members known to favor drastic action in dealing with the Mexican situation. Burleson made one significant remark.

"There are some things you fellows

GEORGE DAVIS IS AT HEAD OF PLANT

Superintendent of Rushville Co-Operative Telephone Company is Appointed General Manager.

DIRECTORS HOLD A MEETING

W. T. Jackson Removed as Secretary-Manager and M. V. Spivey Made Bookkeeper and Secretary.

The board of directors of the Rushville Co-operative Telephone company at a meeting late yesterday afternoon removed W. T. Jackson as manager and appointed George Davis as general manager and M. V. Spivey as secretary and bookkeeper. There was no fight and all of the directors voted for the change.

Mr. Davis has been superintendent of the plant for the last thirteen years, and in making the change the board of directors combined the managership with the superintendency and appointed M. V. Spivey bookkeeper. Officially Mr. Spivey is the secretary.

The board of directors also reorganized, with John H. Frazee as president; J. M. Amos, vice-president and Frank Reynolds treasurer. Mr. Frazee succeeds Ben L. McFarlan as president. Mr. Frazee was treasurer of the old board and Mr. Amos was re-elected vice-president. It was the first meeting of the board since the election of directors and was the first meeting for Dr. W. S. Coleman who was elected director to succeed Ben L. McFarlan.

The removal of Mr. Jackson was not unexpected. He had been manager of the plant since 1909 and had served one term before this. The directors agree that he has made a good manager but as a change was necessary the directors believed that the plan they adopted was best. Mr. Davis had been offered the general managership of a plant at Pekin, Illinois, and in order to retain him the directors decided to name him general manager. Mr. Davis will also act as superintendent.

Dr. Davis is thoroughly acquainted with the plant because of his long connection here. When Mr. Davis came to Rushville the company had just 265 telephones and has had remarkable growth since he has been here. At present the plant has 1590 phones besides connections through the county. Mr. Davis was assured by the board of directors that they were all for him and the best feeling exists between him and the board. Almost every telephone plant in the country has a general manager and the arrangement here should prove successful.

Because Mr. Davis is so well acquainted with the workings of the plant he should make a good manager. Mr. Spivey, the new bookkeeper, is well qualified for the place. He served one term as city treasurer. The new appointees will begin their duties Monday morning. Mr. Jackson will at that time turn the books over to his successor.

There are several things besides the salary of Mr. Davis and the question of retaining him that entered into the removal of Mr. Jackson. The directors however assure the stockholders that it was done for the best and Mr. Davis will enter upon his new duties with the support of all the board. There will be no changes among the employees at the plant.

In all European countries except Russia the sugar beet production last year was one of the greatest on record.

PERMANENT PEST HOUSE IS LIKELY

Public Health Committee of Chamber of Commerce Recommends This to Save Money.

TO BE TAKEN TO GRAND JURY

Committee Also Suggests City Health Board Enforce Existing Public Health Ordinances.

The public health committee of the Rush County Chamber of Commerce held a most enthusiastic session last night, and in addition to urging the enforcement by the city board of health of the city health ordinance, a movement for a permanent pest house at the county poor farm was started.

Several very important committee meetings have been held this week and more are on tap for next week. Monday afternoon the committee on new industries will meet at four-thirty o'clock and Monday night at seven-thirty o'clock the committee on manufactures will meet. Tuesday afternoon at four-thirty o'clock fakes and fakirs committee meets.

A local physician, a member of the public health committee, last night agreed to get some data on what smallpox has cost the city and county in the last few years and show the value of and the money to be saved in building a permanent pest house at the county poor farm where smallpox patients could be removed just as soon as they are found to have the disease.

The data will be presented to Donald Smith, prosecuting attorney, and he will bring the matter before the grand jury when it meets a week from Monday. The grand jury will be asked to recommend to the judge of the circuit court that he advise the building of a permanent pest house.

It was felt by the committee that much money would be saved by the erection of such a house because the expense of caring for smallpox patients in the past has been very heavy.

The committee made several recommendations concerning the enforcement of existing city ordinances by the board of health. It was pointed by the committee that there are enough ordinances already on the books to cover every possible need in the way of public health.

THIRTEEN TAKE EXAMINATIONS

Applicants For Six Rush County Fourth Class Postoffices Writes For Jobs Here Today.

IS ONE WOMAN AMONG THEM

Homer Office Will be Filled by Appointment Because Annual Pay is Less Than $180.

Twelve men and one woman took the civil service examination for the fourth class postmasterships of the county in the teachers examination room on the third floor of the court house today. The examination was in charge of Clarence Cross, secretary of the local civil service commission.

The postoffices to be filled are at Falmouth, Arlington, Mays, Manilla, New Salem and Gwynneville. The applicants were distributed as follows: three for the Falmouth office, four for Arlington, one for Mays, three for Manilla, one for New Salem and one for Gwynneville.

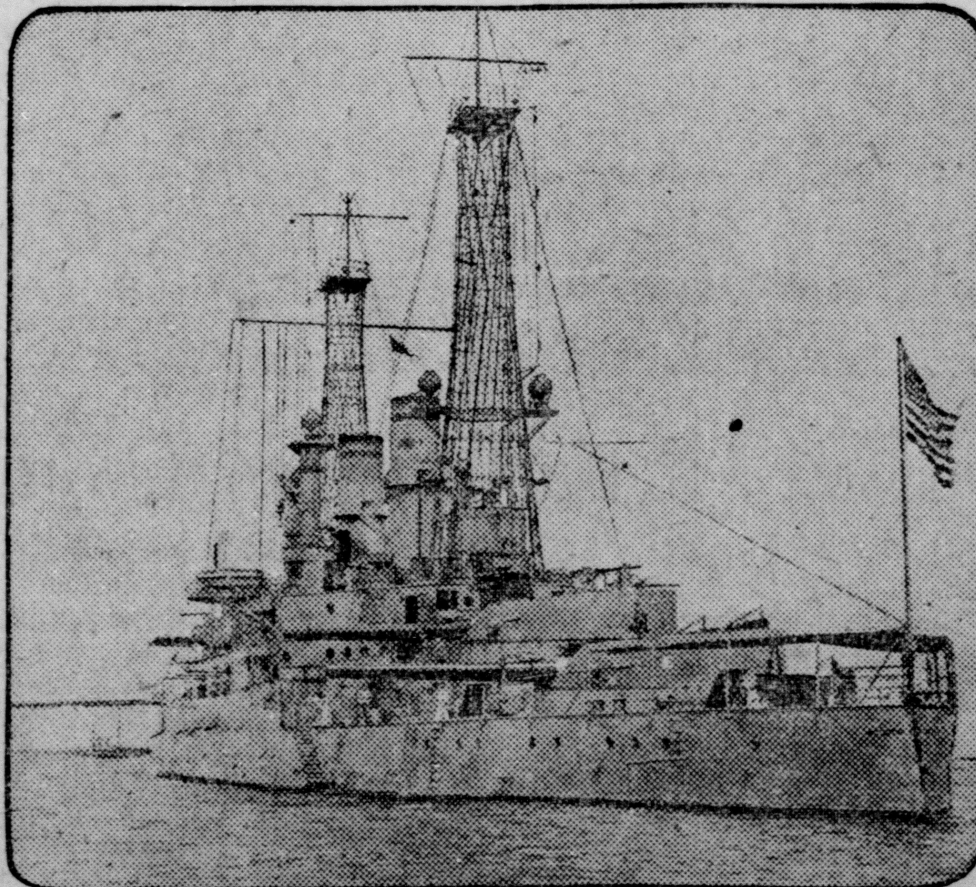

There is one other fourth class postoffice in the county, but it does not come under the class where it is required to pass an examination to get the appointment. The office is located at Homer. A special ruling of the postmaster-general requires that where the compensation of any fourth-class office is $180 or less a year, the office shall be filled on recommendation of the postoffice inspector.

The examination for the fourth-class office positions were given all over the United States today. The postmaster general has issued a bulletin in which he declares that political affiliations will not have any bearing whatever in selecting the postmasters for these offices. The applicants began writing at 9:45 a. m. and were allowed four hours.

In his effort to secure the most efficient man for the postal service, and as part of the evidence upon which he reaches his conclusion, it is his practice to ask the members of Congress in whose district the vacancy exists to advise him relative to the character and fitness of the three eligibles. In doing so the postmaster-general calls upon the member, not in his capacity as a member of any political party, but solely as the representative of the community, regardless of political affiliations; and to emphasize his purpose in this re-

CLOVER HURT BY COLD WEATHER

Many Rush County Fields Frozen

Out by Low Temperatures Last Week, Farmers Discover

IT WILL HAVE TO BE RESOWN

Oats Acreage Also Will be Extremely

Small This Spring—Corn

Acreage Larger

Many fields of young clover have been reported as being destroyed by the freezing weather of last week in Rush county. Many farmers had sown their grain fields to clover earlier in the spring or last fall. The young clover had just started when the late spring freezes caught and killed it. Although a number of farmers are expecting to re-sow the fields in clover, many of them will use the ground for some other purpose. Prospects are that the usual acreage of clover will be greatly decreased in Rush county on account of the freezes.

Clover seed has been unusually cheap this spring, due to the large amount of clover seed that the farmers harvested last fall from their clover crops. It has been selling for $9 to $9.50 a bushel in comparison to the price of $12 and higher that prevailed in the county last spring. Most of the clover seed purchasing has been by farmer from farmer on account of the abundance.

Oats will have a small acreage this year, it is predicted, an account of the wet weather since the time began for oats sowing. Farmers have been practically unable to sow any oats at all so that more than one-fourth the customary amount has been sowed up to this time.

Many Rush county farmers do not believe it is worth while to sow May oats, so that the fields that were planned for oats this year will be replanted to corn or will be seeded to some other small grain crop. Seed oats have had very little demand this year, on account of bad weather. They have been selling at 60 cents a bushel and higher.

Alfalfa has been adopted as the clover crop this spring by a number of Rush county farmers, because of its value in enriching the soil with nitrogen. Its value as a dairy feed has appealed to farmers. The chief objection of the farmers who have tried the crop in this county is that it does not last. The farmers have failed to make of it permanent grass crop as they have succeeded in doing with red clover.

Demand for alfalfa seed has raised the price steadily all spring. Earlier in the season it could be secured for as low as $6 a bushel, but the price is now from $9 to $9.50 and higher.

The price is said to be advancing 10 cents to 15 cents a bushel daily.

Substitute crops are being hunted by the farmers to take the place of oats and clover in the fields where they expected to raise those two crops. Soy beans and cowpeas have appealed to them as a good nitrogenous crop to take the place of clover. These seeds sell at $3.25 a bushel. Cowpeas as a ripe crop have begun to grow in favor with Rush county farmers because of their value as ground feed. Farmers figure that a bushel of cow peas has as much fattening value for their stock as three bushels of corn. The peas will yield as high as fifteen bushels to the acre.

Rape as a pasture to take the place of clover is being purchased by the farmers. The plant is of the cabbage family and is very productive. Sheep farmers are expected to use it more extensively than ever before this summer. Price of this seed appeals to the farmers. It sells at 10 cents a pound, but five or six pounds to seed to the acre is all that is necessary for a good stand.

Larger acreage of corn is predicted, if the farmers can get into their fields soon, to begin preparing the ground for the seed. In many fields where the clover or oats crops have been killed, farmers are expected to put in another crop of corn.

Life on the Screen

"THE MYSTERIOUS SHOT."

BEN WILSON.

Ben Wilson is a leading Edison player. He is most familiar in the chronicles of Cleek, the detective photo plays.

"The Sparrow" (Leading Players Film Corporation).—Mme. Polaire assumes the leading role in this three reel Eclair production. She has the reputation of being the ugliest actress, if not indeed the ugliest woman, in France.

"Life of 'Big Tim' Sullivan" (Gotham).—It is doubtful if any politician was more loved than "Big Tim" Sullivan was among his following. His many charities to the poor and needy are still spoken of in his district. That he was a politician was, after all, merely incidental in the opinion of his friends, the poor.

"Seven Days" (Klaw & Erlanger).—This is one of the first farce comedies to be produced by Klaw & Erlanger, and if the rest are as good their success is assured. All the action takes place in one house, but the scenes are very elaborate. The burglar is no doubt the funniest character.

The Vitagraph company is preparing to make a six reel feature production of Cleveland Moffat's detective story, "Through the Wall."

"Charlotte Corday" (Kennedy) is a sensational drama of the French revolution in four reels. The personal relationship that existed between Charlotte Corday and Marat, the fiend of the strife, is clearly expounded.

"The Spy" (Universal Special Features).—One by one all the world's greatest novels and plays are being produced for the screen, and this four part special feature, based on J. Fenimore Cooper's famous work of the same name, which has just been completed by the Universal, will be an addition to this list which will be welcomed by many.

A young man employed in a country store has the feeling of becoming a great author, singer and floor walker, and then decides to shake the dust from his store life to seek his fortune in the city of New York. However he soon finds out that he is only an ordinary product and the best place is in the country store. He has the troubles of seeking a wife and many laughs are brought out in his doing so. As an added feature, specialties will be given between acts, to make the evening more delightful. The seats are on sale by the members of the Mahoning Council.

Combined Salary of $12,456,760*Segregation BillBY BURTON K. STANDISH (Written for United Press.)Washington, April 18.—The race problem, in these days of the vexing
Mexican question and the free tolls
muddle, is one that is taking its fair share of the Capital spot light. The appointment by President Wilson of Robert H. Terrell a negro to judge
of the District Municipal Court,
which Southern Senators are opposing, served to accentuate the stir in Congress over the bill introduced in
the House by Representative Aswell
of Louisiana, providing for the segregation of white and black governmental clerks under the Civil Service.There are today 22,540 negroes in the employ of the United States government, who draw down a total of $12,456,760 a year. Of these negroes,
4,426 are in the army; 1,529 are in the navy, and 2,140 are in the various navy yards and stations. Of the rest 6,347 with a payroll of $4,099,116 are employed in Washington and the remainder work in government buildings throughout the United States. Twenty-seven negroes
are employed in the White House.
26 in the State Department; 926 in
the Treasury; 170 in the War Department; 174 in the Navy Department; 87 in the Postoffice Department; 593 in the Interior Department;
43 in the Department of Justice; 164
in the Department of Agriculture;
239 in the Government Printing Office
41 in the Interstate Commerce Commission; 115 in the Senate Office Building; 46 in the Congressional
Library; 171 in the Washington
Postoffice; 2,413 in the District of Columbia local government.In the department service outside of Washington, 16 negroes are employed in the diplomatic and consular
service; 1,082 in the Treasury
branches; 2,342 in the War Department; 3,599 in the Postoffice Department; 31 in the Interior Department;
102 in the Department of Agriculture; and 775 miscellaneous.There are 635 negroes employed by the Government in New York; 670 in Chicago; 195 in St. Louis, from 49
to 90 in the other large cities of the
country and 14,130 in miscellaneous
towns.The appointment by the President of Terrell to be municipal judge
promises to bring on as warm a little fight as the Senate has seen in some time. Senators John Sharp Williams
and James K. Vardaman of Mississippi, Hoke Smith of Georgia and Ellison of South Carolina have boasted that the Senate will never confirm Terrell. All of the Southern senators will support them.Speaking for his segregation bill in committee, Representative Aswell explained that its object was to make
it necessary for white government
employees, especially women to work
under or alongside of negroes in the departments. Aswell said:"The Almighty by the stamp of color decreed that the Caucasian
race should occupy positions of
authority and control the destinies of
the country. Fear of losing the negro vote in the doubtful states and
personal desire for office through his vote which are the real cause of
existing conditions, are usually covered by the pretense of justice."If we would be just to each race
we could recognize the eternal fitness of things in this government as did Jefferson and Lincoln. We could
know that this is a white man's
country whose future is to be controlled by the Caucasian race."It is unjust to a member of this inferior race to put him in position
of authority, even over his own race."Every informed and right-thinking white man while sympathizing
with and anxious to help the negroin his place, recognizes the necessity of preserving the integrity and supremacy of the white race. No
nation ever destroyed itself except
by amalgamating with an inferior
race."Are we blindly drifting that way?
The United States is peculiarly commissioned to lead all other nations
not only in the purity of race quality
but in world problems of just and wise government."The purpose of this bill is to check a bad tendency in this country
before it is too late, and cause thinking people everywhere to find themselves in relation to the race problem, and thus deal fairly and give justice to both races."COMES OVER TO

Leaves Progressives Believing
Republicans Strongest.*IN LEADERS AND NUMBERS*Have Same Views, He Argues, and
Why Should a House be Divided
Against Itself?

(Special to the Daily Republican)

Lafayette, Ind., April 18.—Thomas Bauer mayor of Lafayette, who ran on a citizens' ticket, which was made possible by a coalition of the Republicans and Progressives, has embittered the Bull Mooseers by deserting their organization and going
over to the Republican party. He has made no public statement, but
he is known to favor amalgamation
of the Progressives and Republicans
and the dissolution of the Mooseers
as a separate political organization.The Progressives are denouncing Bauer bitterly. They charge that up to the time he was elected mayor of Lafayette he championed the Progressive cause. After election he began treating the Bull Moose leaders coolly and in his appointments
he failed to recognize any of the
active workers of the party, all the
plums going to dyed-in-the-wool Republicans and to Progressives who
were never known as such until he
appointed them and labeled them
Progressive appointees.Mr. Bauer says he believes the rebuke administered to the Republican
organization in 1912 by the Progressive element in the party was entirely justifiable. He believes that the party has awakened and that the
sole hope of the nation lies in the restitution of the G. O. P. to power.The free trade bogey, has paralyzed the business of the nation. His business, he says, has fallen off materially. He deprecates the fact that American labor must compete with
the poorly paid labor of Europe.

"The Republican and Progressive

parties have the same end in view,"
he said. "Then why should the
house remained divided against itself
and let the minority party run the government. He thinks of
the two parties the Republican party is the stronger numerically and in the quality of its leaders. The small difference in the
should not be allowed to stand in the way of an amalgamation. The Progressives he says, should go back to
the mother party and redeem the
country from the Democrats. He denounces the Wilson administration
as a foe to prosperity.He thinks Tippecanoe county will be carried by the Republicans this
fall because of the split in the Democratic party here.Mayor Bauer, though not an active worker in the Progressive party here
was sent as a delegate to the national convention in Chicago where Roosevelt was nominated. He has been lukewarm in Progressive activity since last year, and has not attended any Progressive meetings
since the 1912 campaign.*****

The baseball season of 1914 will be officially opened tomorrow as far as Rushville is concerned, when the Arcadians take on the United State Navy team of Indianapolis. The Arcadians take on the United States given above. Manager Fisher has received word from all his players that they will be here and a great game is expected. A great crowd is looked for tomorrow if the weather is favorable. As has been announced Mayor Behout will throw the first ball and then the game will be on.

The Navy team should give the Arcadians a good battle. They have practically the same team as last year when they defeated such teams as the Logansport Ottos, Columbus and many other fast semi-pro teams. They played a fifteen inning tie with the Duesseldorfers. Rice, who will pitch for the visitors will be remembered by the fans. He pitched the last five innings for the Arlington Red Sox here last fall and held the Arcadians without a run. The work on the grounds will be completed in time for the game. While the diamond will not be as fast as it will be in two or three weeks it will be in shape however for the game. The fans will be given a surprise. The park as it is today presents a very beautiful appearance and Rushville has one of the best parks now of any team around here. The diamond has been sodded and the outfield has been leveled.

Manager Fisher believes he has succeeded in lining up a fast bunch of players. Some of them are known to the fans but there will be several new faces. Fisse at second, Johannes at short, O'Dell in right and James and Tomlin the pitchers are the new men. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock and as has been the custom in the past ladies will be admitted free at the gate.

EUGENICS WILL PLAY BIG PART

Strict Examination of All Entrants
in 500 Mile Race is Ordered
by Management

TO REDUCE THE ACCIDENTS

(Special to the Daily Republican)

Indianapolis, April 18.—Eugenics are to play an even bigger part in automobile racing than in marriage. A strict examination of all contestants in the next Indianapolis five-hundred-mile race having been ordered by the management. Medical certificates, certifying physical fitness, freedom from chronic diseases, high blood pressure, the absence of serious nervous manifestations, and other indications of grave disorders will be required at least five days prior to the contest.

The move is taken to reduce to a minimum the chance of accident during the contest. Motor marathoning, such as the five-hundred-mile race, is about the most exhausting sport in the entire category. Moreover, an accident is liable to result not only in a number of fatalities, something which is true of no other form of pastime, where a spill is usually of little consequence. Every precaution is being taken, therefore to insure skill of eye and strength of hand at the crucial moment.

DOGDOM HOLDS SWAY.

Washington, April 18.—Dogdom held sway here today. The Washington Kennel Association opened its annual show, with bluebloods and near blue-bloods from all over the country in attendance. The affair was given a touch of official sanction when the two sons of Secretary of the Navy Daniels entered their pet fox terriers. Ned Lane, son of Secretary of the Interior Lane also entered dogs. The bench committee includes George S. Lane, Dr. G. N. Payetto, Dr. W. W. Evans, M. M. Cady, S. Desio, Jr., and T. C. Brown.

IN STERLING LIVES A GIRL

Found Relief.

Sterling, Conn.—“I am a girl of 22 years and I used to faint away every month and was very weak. I was also bothered a lot with female weakness. I read your little book ‘Wisdom for Women,’ and I saw how others had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham’s Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and it has made me feel like a new girl and I am now relieved of all these troubles. I hope all young girls will get relief as I have. I never felt better in my life.”—Miss BERTHA A. PELOQUIN, Box 116, Sterling, Conn.

Massena, N. Y.—“I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham’s Vegetable Compound and I highly recommend it. If anyone wants to write to me I will gladly tell her about my case. I was certainly in a bad condition as my blood was all turning to water. I had pimples on my face and a bad color, and for five years I had been troubled with suppression. The doctors called it ‘Anemia and Exhaustion,’ and said I was all run down, but Lydia E. Pinkham’s Vegetable Compound brought me out all right.”—Miss LAVISA MYRES, Box 74, Massena, N. Y.

Young Girls, Heed This Advice.

Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham’s Vegetable Compound.

THE CASE OF JENNIE BRICE

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

CHAPTER XI.

THE prosecution produced many witnesses during the next two days; Shanty Boat Tim’s story withstood the most vigorous cross examination. After him, Mr. Bronson from the theater corroborated Miss Hope’s story of Jennie Brice’s attack of hysteria in the dressing room and told of taking her home that night.

He was a poor witness, nervous and halting. He weighed each word before he said it, and he made a general unfavorable impression. I thought he was holding something back. In view of what Mr. Pitman would have called the denouement, his attitude is easily explained. But I was puzzled then.

So far, the prosecution had touched but lightly on the possible motive for a crime—the woman. But on the third day, to my surprise, a Mrs. Agnes Murray was called. It was the Mrs. Murray I had seen at the morgue.

I have lost the clipping of that day’s trial, but I remember her testimony perfectly.

She was a widow, living above a small millinery shop on Federal street, Allegheny. She had one daughter, Alice, who did stenography and typing as a means of livelihood. She had no office and worked at home. Many of the small stores in the neighborhood employed her to send out their bills. There was a card at the street entrance beside the shop, and now and then strangers brought her work.

Early in December the prisoner had brought her the manuscript of a play to type, and from that time on he came frequently, sometimes every day, bringing a few sheets of manuscript at a time. Sometimes he came without any manuscript and would sit and talk while he smoked a cigarette. They had thought him unmarried.

On Wednesday, Feb. 28, Alice Murray had disappeared. She had taken some of her clothing—not all—and had left a note. The witness read the note aloud in a trembling voice:

Dear Mother—When you get this I shall be married to Mr. Ladley. Don’t worry. Will write again from N. Y. Lovingly, ALICE.

From that time until a week before, she had not heard from her daughter. Then she had a card, mailed from Madison Square station, New York city. The card merely said:

Am well and working. ALICE.

The defense was visibly shaken. They had not expected this, and I thought even Mr. Ladley, whose calm had continued unbroken, paled.

So far all had gone well for the prosecution. They had proved a crime, as nearly as circumstantial evidence could prove a crime, and they had established a motive. But in the identification of the body so far they had failed. The prosecution “rested,” as they say, although they didn’t rest much on the afternoon of the third day.

The defense called, first of all, Eliza Shaeffer. She told of a woman answering the general description of Jennie Brice having spent two days at the Shaeffer farm at Horner. Being shown photographs of Jennie Brice, she said she thought it was the same woman, but was not certain. She told further of the woman leaving unexpectedly on Wednesday of that week from Thornville. On cross examination being shown the small photograph which Mr. Graves had shown me, she identified the woman in question. As the face was in shadow, knew it more by the dress and hat. She described the black and white dress and the hat with red trimming.

The defense then called me. I had to admit that the dress and hat as described were almost certainly the ones I had seen on the bed in Jennie Brice’s room the day before she disappeared. I could not say definitely whether the woman in the photograph was Jennie Brice or not; under a magnifying glass thought it might be.

Defense called Jonathan Alexander.

RELIABLE HOME TREATMENT

Any wife or mother who wants to save her husband or son from “Drink” will be glad to know that she can purchase ORRINE, the standard liquor habit remedy, that we have sold for years, and if no benefit is obtained after a trial the money will be refunded.

ORRINE is prepared in two forms: No. 1, secret treatment, a powder, absolutely tasteless and odorless, given secretly in food or drink; ORRINE No. 2, in pill form, is for those who desire to take voluntary treatment. ORRINE costs only 1.00 a box. Come in and get a free booklet about ORRINE.

HARGROVE and MULLIN Druggist

a druggist who testified that on the night in question he had been roused at half past 3 by the prisoner, who had said his wife was ill, and had purchased a bottle of proprietary remedy from him. His identification was absolute.

The defense called Jennie Brice’s sister, and endeavored to prove that Jennie Brice had had no such scar. It was shown that she was on intimate terms with her family and would hardly have concealed an operation of any gravity from them.

The defense scored that day. They had shown that the prisoner had told the truth when he said he had gone to a pharmacy for medicine that night for his wife, and they had shown that a woman, answering the description of Jennie Brice, spent two days in a town called Horner, and had gone from there on Wednesday after the crime. And they had shown that this woman was attired as Jennie Brice had been.

That was the way things stood on the afternoon of the fourth day when court adjourned.

Mr. Reynolds was at home when I got there. He had been very much

subdued since the developments of that first day of the trial, sat mostly in his own room and had twice brought me a bunch of jonquils as a peace offering. He had the kettle boiling when I got home.

“You have had a number of visitors,” he said. “Our young friend Howell has been here, and Mr. Holcombe has arrived and has a man in his room.”

Mr. Holcombe came down a moment after, with his face beaming.

But further than that he would not explain. He said he had a witness locked in his room, and he’d be glad of supper for him, as they’d both come a long way. And he went out and bought some oysters and a bottle or two of beer. But as far as I know he kept him locked up all that night in the second story front room. I don’t think the man knew he was a prisoner. I went in to turn down the bed, and he was sitting by the window, reading the evening paper’s account of the trial—an elderly gentleman, rather professional looking.

Mr. Holcombe slept on the upper landing of the hall that night, rolled in a blanket—not that I think his witness even thought of escaping, but the little man was taking no chances.

At 8 o’clock that night the bell rang. It was Mr. Howell. I admitted him myself, and he followed me back to the dining room. I had not seen him for several weeks, and the change in him startled me. He was dressed carefully, but his eyes were sunken in his head, and he looked as if he had not slept for days.

Mr. Reynolds had gone upstairs, not finding me socially inclined.

“You haven’t been sick, Mr. Howell, have you?” I asked.

“My mother?” I asked, startled.

“I saw her a few days ago.”

“Here?”

“Yes; she came here, Mr. Howell, two weeks ago. She looks badly—as if she is worrying.”

“Yes, about you. What possessed you to go away as you did? When my—bro—when her uncle accused you of something you ran away instead of facing things like a man.”

“I was trying to find the one person who could clear me, Mrs. Pitman.”

I thought perhaps he had not been eating, and I offered him food, as I had once before. But he refused it, with the ghost of his boyish smile.

“I’m hungry, but it’s not food I want. I want to see her,” he said.

I sat down across from him and tried to mend a tablecloth, but I could not sew. I kept seeing those two young things, each sick for a sight of the other, and, from wishing they could have a minute together, I got to planning it for them.

“And if you will sit quiet and stop tapping your fingers together until you drive me crazy I might contrive it for you. For five minutes,” I said. “Not a second longer.”

He came right over and put his arms around me.

“Who are you, anyhow?” he said.

“You who turn to the world the frozen mask of a Union street boarding house landlady, who are a gentlewoman by every instinct and training and a girl at heart? Who are you?”

“I’ll tell you what I am,” I said. “I’m a romantic old fool, and you’d better let me do this quickly before I change my mind.”

He freed me at that, but he followed to the telephone and stood by while I got Lida. He was in a perfect frenzy of anxiety, turning red and white by turns, and in the middle of the conversation taking the receiver bodily from me and holding it to his own ear.

She said she thought she could get away; she spoke guardedly as if Alma were near, but I gathered that she would come as soon as she could, and from the way her voice broke, I knew she was as excited as the boy beside me.

She came, heavily coated and veiled, at a quarter after 10 that night, and I took her back to the dining room, where he was waiting. He did not make a move toward her, but stood there with his very lips white, looking at her. And at first she did not make a move either, but stood and gazed at him, thin and white, a wreck of himself. Then:

The schoolteacher was out. I went into the parlor bedroom and sat in the cozy corner in the dark. I had done a wrong thing, and I was glad of it. And, sitting there in the darkness, I went over my life again. After all, it had been my own life; I had lived it; no one else had shaped it for me. And if it was cheerless and colorless now, it had had its big moments. Life is measured by big moments.

If I let the two children in the dining room have fifteen big moments instead of five who can blame me?

The next day was the sensational one of the trial. We went through every phase of conviction: Jennie Brice was living. Jennie Brice was dead. The body found at Sewickley could not be Jennie Brice’s. The body found at Sewickley was Jennie Brice’s. And so it went on.

The defense did an unexpected thing in putting Mr. Ladley on the stand. That day, for the first time, he showed the wear and tear of the ordeal. He had no flower in his buttonhole, and the rims of his eyes were red. But he was quite cool. His stage training had taught him not only to endure the eyes of the crowd, but to find in its gaze a sort of stimulant. He made a good witness I must admit.

He replied to the usual questions easily. After five minutes or so Mr. Llewellyn got down to work.

WILLIAM JOHNSON DIES AT ARLINGTON

SON AND DAUGHTER SURVIVE

The funeral services of William Johnson, age seventy-six years, who died yesterday at his home west of Arlington, will be held Sunday. He has been sick for some time, suffering from asthma, but his condition was not considered critical until five days ago when he developed a severe case of double pneumonia. His death while very sudden and was expected, as his relatives and the attending physician knew a few days ago that his constitution was not strong enough to ward off the ravages of the disease.

Mr. Johnston was a native of Kentucky, but he had made this state his home for thirty years, having removed to the community in which he died when he left his native home. He was a member of the Christian church at Arlington and was an ardent worker in it. His wife died several years ago and since that time he had been making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Will Ray. The only other near surviving relative is a son, Theodore Johnston, of Rush county.

WILL STAND TRIAL IN CIRCUIT COURT

Fake Magazine Solicitor Who Operated Here is Held in Shelbyville on an Affidavit.

Thomas K. Wilkins, the magazine fakir who sold subscriptions to popular magazines at greatly reduced prices "for cash" in Connorsville and later continued his operations in this city, will have to stand trial in the circuit court at Shelbyville where he was arrested for carrying on a fraud scheme.

The assistant chief of police of Shelbyville has received a letter from the Globe Circulating agency of Milwaukee regarding Wilkins. The letter contains much information about the man, but it fails to make mention of any reward. In fact, it asserts that the Milwaukee company has nothing to do with the magazines the man has been selling here, the only one they handle, according to the letter being Home Instructor, published at Quincy, Ill. Acting on the company's recommendation Mr. Marsh has written to the publishers of Today's Magazine at Canton, Ohio, this being one of the periodicals he was selling. The letter indicates that the company has lost track of Wilkins and that they had been unable to reach him by mail since February 24, all their letters being returned to them as unclaimed.

United States Army Is All Prepared for War

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 18.—The United States army is ready for war.

Secretary of war Garrison said this afternoon:

"Everything is prepared to move, provided the situation becomes serious."

He indicated a request by Senator Sheppard of Texas for more troops on the border would be met. General Bliss wired Garrison that he will send troops along the border to find the exact needs at every portion and the secretary intimated that this might mean an increase in the force later.

up here don't know about the Mexicans' character," he said, "and that is that they would quibble until after Christmas if they were permitted to do so. But when they are forced to act one way or another, they can generally be induced to do so."

Senators were inclined to believe that the President has been urged to fix a time limit in which Huerta should be forced to meet the demands of the government. They think that this time limit will probably be before the fleet gets to Mexican waters in order to prove conclusively that the mass of Mexicans will tolerate no further temporizing.

$50,000 FIRE AT WINONA

At Noon 21 Cottages Had Burned and Flames Were Unchecked.

(By United Press.)

Fort Wayne, Ind., April 18.—The fire department from this city was sent to Winona Lake forty miles west of here at noon today to help a fierce fire that has been raging this morning. At one o'clock 21 cottages had been burned and dynamite was being used to check the flames. The handsome summer cottage of Billie Sunday, the evangelist, was endangered by the fire. The loss at noon amounted to $50,000.

That it be urged that all property owners connect their closets with sewers. It was pointed out that this is where danger lurks, especially in the summer time. The closets where open vaults exists are not only a breeding house for germs carrying and especially typhoid flies, but they have a very bad odor and are infested with rats. There is no defense, the committee showed, for the open vault. It is sure to be a harboring place for germs.

That the city board of health enforce the ordinance compelling residents to have closed garbage cans and keep them clean. The open garbage can especially is a breeding hive for flies. The enforcement of this ordinance, it is pointed out, would lessen the number of flies.

That the ordinance calling for closed manure boxes be enforced. The open manure pen is another favorite spot of the flies where they multiply fast and thrive. The ordinance calls for closed boxes all over the city and the committee believes that it should be effective.

The committee urged that the people of Rushville try to conform with the orders of the health board to the end that this might be a cleaner and healthier city.

The fakes and fakirs committee, it is believed, will have a valuable work to do. A case in point has come to light. A few weeks ago a stranger was in the city one Saturday selling an imitation of a much advertised chewing gum at a greatly reduced price. He represented himself as a veteran of the Spanish American war and therefore escaped a license fee.

It was later discovered that the real man who had charge of the business was not a veteran of any war, but that he was using the Spanish-American war as a license fee.

Fire Which Destroyed Old Structure
Owned by George C. Wyatt of Incendiary Origin.

HAPPENED IN SPENCER STREET

Fire believed to have been of incendiary origin destroyed a house owned by George C. Wyatt, this morning shortly after two o'clock. The house was being moved to a lot owned by Mr. Wyatt in Spencer street, south of Third street. It is believed that some one set fire to the house, but the police have no clues.

The loss was very small although the house was destroyed. It was a small frame dwelling and Mr. Wyatt intended placing it on a lot in that street, and after making some repairs to rent it. The house seemed to be on fire all over the roof when the department arrived. Ed Benedict lost several valuable tools which were in the house. What was left of the house was torn down this morning and burned.

RESOLUTIONS ARE ADOPTED

Indianapolis, Ind., April 18.—Former Senator Albert J. Beveridge this afternoon was nominated for United States senator at the Progressive state convention and accepted. The convention this afternoon unanimously adopted the report of the resolutions committee favoring referendum, statewide prohibition and a federal amendment for national prohibition. The watchful waiting policy of the national administration was condemned.

Chairman Lee rapped the convention to order at nine-thirty. When Beveridge appeared there was a burst of applause, which was the first indication on the convention floor of any centralized interest. Delegates marched up and down the floor for 16 minutes cheering Beveridge.

HUERTA HAS UNTIL SIX P.M. SUNDAY TO SALUTE

dent Will Ask Authority of Congress to Enforce Blockade.

This is Tantamount to Declaration

WAY PAVED FOR HOSTILITIES

Will Yield to Demands and Preparations Are Made.

Washington, April 18.—War with Mexico is almost a certainty. Officialdom has practically given up hope of a peaceful settlement of the controversy with the southern republic. The United States has sent its last word. Huerta must salute
the American flag in broad daylight with all of the formality required by all international practice aface the United States army and navy.

Huerta has been given until six o'clock Sunday to agree to do so.
If he does not, the President on Monday will make history on Capitol Hill.

He will tell of the entire futile attempt to enforce respect for the American flag by diplomacy and will ask that congress authorize a complete blockade of every Mexican port. This afternoon it was almost certain that the authorization will be
by the unanimous vote of congress.

The President conferred with cabinet officials in the White House this afternoon, paving the way for the expected hostilities. Not only has he lost all hope that Huerta will yield, but he is now convinced that the United Press uncensored code dispatches yesterday from its staff correspondent at Mexico City, stating that Huerta hoped to force war
in a vain hope to extricate himself from his untenable position, was an accurate statement of facts.

This dispatch was the first word official Washington had from an outside source that Huerta was only playing with the American government.

The President's intentions are to obtain full and complete co-operation from congress in every step that is taken from now on. He is forced to go to White Sulphur Springs tonight to bring Mrs. Wilson back to Washington because her condition is such that if he were to send for her, it might result in a nervous breakdown. But he will make the trip within the shortest possible time
and will be back at his desk early Monday morning to go on with his task should that be necessary as he now believes.

If he appears before congress in a joint session, the President will tell in detail just what he has done. The President will tell them a specific blockade will be of no avail as it would simply hold up Mexican commerce and would permit foreign ships, which carry the bulk of the trade free entry and outlet. The President intends that the blockade
shall be complete in every detail.
Not a vessel will be permitted to enter or leave a Mexican port until such time as a complete and ample apology and a renewed promise to "be good" shall come from Mexico.

He believes that this blockade was preliminary to actual hostilities.

COMMANDERS IN MEXICAN WATERS

1, Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger, commanding the Atlantic fleet; 2, Rear Admiral T. B. Howard, commanding the Pacific fleet; 3, Rear Admiral Henry T. Mayo, commanding the fourth division, at Tampico; 4, Rear Admiral Frank F. Fletcher, commanding the first division, at Vera Cruz.

Huerta is expected, the moment a blockade is declared, to hand Charge O'Shaughnessy his passport and formally declare war on the United States.

Nothing is known as to the attitude which the constitutionalists in the north will take, but opinion
among high officials is that they will be hostile to the United States. The national Mexican feeling is such that if Carranza and his followers should agree to permit the United States to down Huerta without any interference from them, the Constitutionalists' cause would be crushed.

Unless General Huerta makes complete reparation and salutes the American flag with 21 guns, and announces that he will do so before six o'clock tomorrow evening, this country through its armed forces will compel him to do so.

This was announced at the White House this afternoon when the President stated that if Huerta has not yet decided by that time he will take the matter to congress in person Monday.

Inasmuch as the President is on record as saying that he will ask Congress for authority to use the army against General Huerta, the statement that he is prepared to go to congress of necessity means at least an armed blockade of Mexican ports which, it is agreed, is tantamount to a declaration of war.

The official statement as issued at the White House is as follows:

"General Huerta is still insisting upon doing something less than has been demanded and something less than what constitutes an acknowledgement that his representatives were entirely in the wrong in the indignities they have put upon the government of the United States.
The President has determined that if General Huerta has not yielded by six o'clock Sunday afternoon, he will take the matter to congress on

A simultaneous salute was still demanded by Huerta today. It will be refused by this government. This is taken to mean almost certain war measures.

The statement was made by a high administration officer today. Huerta

Developments of Day in Mexican Situation

United States with its armed forces will compel Huerta to salute the American flag with 21 guns if he does not decide to do so by tomorrow night at 6 o'clock.

In case of Huerta's refusal to make complete reparation for Tampico incident, President will take matter before congress Monday. This means an armed blockade of Mexican ports which is practically the same as a declaration of war.

Huerta insists that Mexico will not salute except under the gun-for-gun plan. Charge O'Shaughnessy cabled to refuse Dictator's request.

Evidence of preparation for war
was noted at the army and navy departments.

insists that Mexico shall not salute
except under the gun-for-gun plan.

Secretary Bryan cabled Charge O'Shaughnessy absolutely to refuse to accede to Huerta's request. It is believed that President Wilson has set a time limit. It is expected he will announce the text of his demand
on Huerta this afternoon.

Sensational evidence of preparation for hostilities were noted at both the war and navy department almost immediately after the return of the President to the White House.

Secretary Bryan and Secretary
Tamm carrying Charge O'Shaughnessy's latest message from Huerta,
which is known to be another quibble, rushed post haste in a high-powered automobile from the state department to a golf course in Virginia today where the President was playing golf.

Just before Tammy started, he conferred with Postmaster General Burleson, one of the cabinet members known to favor drastic action in dealing with the Mexican situation.
Burleson made one significant remark.

GEORGE DAVIS IS AT HEAD OF PLANT

Superintendent of Rushville Co-Operative Telephone Company is Appointed General Manager.

W. T. Jackson Removed as Secretary-Manager and M. V. Spivey Made Bookkeeper and Secretary.

The board of directors of the Rushville Co-operative Telephone company at a meeting late yesterday afternoon removed W. T. Jackson as manager and appointed George Davis
as general manager and M. V. Spivey as secretary and bookkeeper. There was no fight and all of the directors voted for the change.

Mr. Davis has been superintendent of the plant for the last thirteen years, and in making the change the board of directors combined the managership with the superintendency and appointed M. V. Spivey bookkeeper. Officially Mr. Spivey is the secretary.

The board of directors also reorganized, with John H. Frazee as president; J. M. Amos, vice-president and Frank Reynolds treasurer. Mr.
Frazee succeeds Ben L. McFarlan
as president. Mr. Frazee was treasurer of the old board and Mr. Amos was re-elected vice-president. It was the first meeting of the board since the election of directors and was the first meeting for Dr. W. S. Coleman who was elected director to succeed Ben L. McFarlan.

The removal of Mr. Jackson was not unexpected. He had been manager of the plant since 1909 and had served one term before this. The directors agree that he has made a good manager but as a change was necessary the directors believed that the plan they adopted was best. Mr.
Davis had been offered the general
managership of a plant at Pekin Illinois, and in order to retain him
the directors decided to name him
general manager. Mr. Davis will also act as superintendent.

Dr. Davis is thoroughly acquainted with the plant because of his long connection here. When Mr. Davis came to Rushville the company had just 265 telephones and has had remarkable growth since he has been here. At present the plant has 1598 phones besides connections through the county. Mr. Davis was assured by the board of directors that they were all for him and the best feeling exists between him and the board.
Almost every telephone plant in the country has a general manager and the arrangement here should prove successful.

Because Mr. Davis is so well acquainted with the workings of the plant he should make a good manager.
Mr. Spivey, the new bookkeeper, is well qualified for the place. He served one term as city treasurer. The new appointees will begin their duties Monday morning. Mr. Jackson will at that time turn the books over to his successor.

There are several things besides the salary of Mr. Davis and the question of retaining him that entered into the removal of Mr. Jackson.
The directors however assure the stockholders that it was done for the best and Mr. Davis will enter upon his new duties with the support of all the board. There will be no changes among the employees at the plant.

In all European countries except Russia the sugar beet production last year was one of the greatest on record.

Public Health Committee of Chamber of Commerce Recommends This to Save Money.

Committee Also Suggests City Health Board Enforce Existing Public Health Ordinances.

The public health committee of the Rush County Chamber of Commerce held a most enthusiastic session last night, and in addition to urging the enforcement by the city
board of health of the city health ordinance, a movement for a permanent pest house at the county poor farm was started.

Several very important committee meetings have been held this week and more are on tap for next week. Monday afternoon the committee on new industries will meet at four-thirty o'clock and Monday night at seven-thirty o'clock the committee on manufactures will meet. Tuesday afternoon at four-thirty o'clock fakes and fakirs committee meets.

A local physician, a member of the public health committee, last night agreed to get some data on what smallpox has cost the city and county in the last few years and show the value of and the money to be saved in building a permanent pest house at the county poor farm
where smallpox patients could be removed just as soon as they are found to have the disease.

The data will be presented to Donald Smith, prosecuting attorney, and he will bring the matter before the grand jury when it meets a week from Monday. The grand jury will be asked to recommend to the judge of the circuit court that he advise
the building of a permanent pest house.

It was felt by the committee that much money would be saved by the erection of such a house because the expense of caring for smallpox patients in the past has been very heavy.

The committee made several recommendations concerning the enforcement of existing city ordinances
by the board of health. It was pointed by the committee that there are enough ordinances already on the books to cover every possible
need in the way of public health.

plicants were distributed as follows:
three for the Falmouth office, four for Arlington, one for Mays, three for Manila, one for New Salem and one for Gwynneville.

There is one other fourth class postoffice in the county, but it does not come under the class where it is required to pass an examination to get the appointment. The office is located at Homer. A special ruling of the postmaster-general requires that where the compensation of pay-fourth-class office is $180 or less a year, the office shall be filled on recommendation of the postoffice inspector.

The examination for the fourth-class office positions were given all over the United States today. The postmaster general has issued a bulletin in which he declares that political affiliations will not have any bearing whatever in selecting the postmasters for these offices. "The applicants began writing at 9:45 a. m.
and were allowed four hours.

In his effort to secure the most efficient man for the postal service,
and as part of the evidence upon which he reaches his conclusion, it is his practice to ask the members of Congress in whose district the vacancy exists to advise him relative to the character and fitness of the three eligibles. In doing so the postmaster-general calls upon the member,
not in his capacity as a member of any political party, but solely as the representative of the community, regardless of political affiliations; and to emphasize his purpose in this re-

With the man you bought Buggies from? Has he overestimated his buggies to you? Has he talked quality to you in order to get more money for his buggies than they were really worth? ## CLOVER HURT BY COLD WEATHER

Many Rush County Fields Frozen Out by Low Temperatures Last Week, Farmers Discover

IT WILL HAVE TO BE RESOWN

Oats Acreage Also Will be Extremely Small This Spring—Corn Acreage Larger

Many fields of young clover have been reported as being destroyed by the freezing weather of last week in Rush county. Many farmers had sown their grain fields to clover earlier in the spring or last fall. The young clover had just started when the late spring freezes caught and killed it. Although a number of farmers are expecting to re-sow the fields in clover, many of them will use the ground for some other purpose. Prospects are that the usual acreage of clover will be greatly decreased in Rush county on account of the freezes.

Clover seed has been unusually cheap this spring, due to the large amount of clover seed that the farmers harvested last fall from their clover crops. It has been selling for $9 to $9.50 a bushel in comparison to the price of $12 and higher that prevailed in the county last spring. Most of the clover seed purchasing has been by farmer from farmer on account of the abundance.

Oats will have a small acreage this year, it is predicted, an account of the wet weather since the time began for oats sowing. Farmers have been practically unable to sow any oats at all so that more than one-fourth the customary amount has been sowed up to this time.

Many Rush county farmers do not believe it is worth while to sow May oats, so that the fields that were planned for oats this year will be replanted to corn or will be seeded to some other small grain crop. Seed oats have had very little demand this year, on account of bad weather. They have been selling at 60 cents a bushel and higher.

Alfalfa has been adopted as the clover crop this spring by a number of Rush county farmers, because of its value in enriching the soil with nitrogen. Its value as a dairy feed has appealed to farmers. The chief objection of the farmers who have tried the crop in this county is that it does not last. The farmers have failed to make of it permanent grass crop as they have succeeded in doing with red clover.

Demand for alfalfa seed has raised the price steadily all spring. Earlier in the season it could be secured for as low as $6 a bushel, but the price is now from $9 to $9.50 and higher.

The price is said to be advancing 10 cents to 15 cents a bushel daily.

Substitute crops are being hunted by the farmers to take the place of oats and clover in the fields where they expected to raise those two crops. Soy beans and cowpeas have appealed to them as a good nitrogenous crop to take the place of clover. These seeds sell at $3.25 a bushel. Cowpeas as a ripe crop have begun to grow in favor with Rush county farmers because of their value as ground feed. Farmers figure that a bushel of cow peas has as much fattening value for their stock as three bushels of corn. The peas will yield as high as fifteen bushels to the acre.

Rape as a pasture to take the place of clover is being purchased by the farmers. The plant is of the cabbage family and is very productive. Sheep farmers are expected to use it more extensively than ever before this summer. Price of this seed appeals to the farmers. It sells at 10 cents a pound, but five or six pounds to seed to the acre is all that is necessary for a good stand.

Larger acreage of corn is predicted, if the farmers can get into their fields soon, to begin preparing the ground for the seed. In many fields where the clover or oats crops have been killed, farmers are expected to put in another crop of corn.

BEN WILSON.

"The Sparrow" (Leading Players Film Corporation).—Mme. Polaire assumes the leading role in this three reel Eclair production. She has the reputation of being the ugliest actress, if not indeed the ugliest woman, in France.

"Life of 'Big Tim' Sullivan" (Gotham).—It is doubtful if any politician was more loved than "Big Tim" Sullivan was among his following. His many charities to the poor and needy are still spoken of in his district. That he was a politician was, after all, merely incidental in the opinion of his friends, the poor.

"Seven Days" (Klaw & Erlanger).—This is one of the first farce comedies to be produced by Klaw & Erlanger, and if the rest are as good their success is assured. All the action takes place in one house, but the scenes are very elaborate. The burglar is no doubt the funniest character.

A NEW mystery film, which grips the interest from start to finish, is "The Mysterious Shot." This is a Reliance production.

The Gold Seal single reeler, "In the Blood," will mark the first appearance of Eugene Ormonde on the screen after two decades of footlight experience with Mrs. Fiske, Margaret Anglin, Blanche Bates and other stars.

Pathe releases on April 20 through the General Film company's special feature department a four reel production which bears the name of "The Treasure of Abdur Rahmen." There is no love story in the film. The out of door scenes were taken in Morocco and show the quaint architecture of an old Moorish town and the burning sands of the desert.

The Vitagraph company is preparing to make a six reel feature production of Cleveland Moffat's detective story, "Through the Wall."

"Charlotte Corday" (Kennedy) is a sensational drama of the French revolution in four reels. The personal relationship that existed between Charlotte Corday and Marat, the friend of the strife, is clearly expounded.

"The Spy" (Universal Special Features).—One by one all the world's greatest novels and plays are being produced for the screen, and this four part special feature, based on J. Fenimore Cooper's famous work of the same name, which has just been completed by the Universal, will be an addition to this list which will be welcomed by many.

The play is in three acts and will be given in the Modern Woodmen hall, at eight o'clock. The play is full of life and fun and promises to be one of the best given by local talent. A young man employed in a country store has the feeling of becoming a great author, singer and floor walker, and then decides to shake the dust from his store life to seek his fortune in the city of New York. However he soon finds out that he is only an ordinary product and the best place is in the country store. He has the troubles of seeking a wife and many laughs are brought out in his doing so. As an added feature, specialties will be given between acts, to make the evening more delightful. The seats are on sale by the members of the Mahoning Council.

Official information confirms the announcement that on May 6 Ringling Brothers' circus will give two performances in Indianapolis.

Many new features have been added this year, the most notable of which is the spectacle "Solomon and the Queen of Sheba." This colossal production is presented with a cast of 1,250 people, a ballet of 300 dancing girls, 735 horses, 32 camels and a trainload of scenery, costumes and properties on the biggest stage in the world.

Following the spectacle a circus program of unusual brilliancy will be presented, including an array of foreign and American acts new to the circus world. The menagerie contains 1,003 wild animals, 41 elephants, five giraffes and a "baby zoo." The circus is transported on 89 double length cars. Special arrangements have been made by the railroads to accomodate the crowds that will visit the circus from this city and the surrounding country.

Committee Work

The good roads committee of the Rush county Chamber of Commerce
made a most excellent recommendation in suggesting that a meeting of representative farmers and road supervisors be arranged by the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of discussing good roads and interesting the farmers in the projects of the Chamber of Commerce.

Farmers can scarcely realize the value of the Chamber of Commerce to the community until they have understood what can be accomplished by co-operation between the farmers and the citizens of the county seat. They will best be acquainted with the ideals and prospects of the Chamber of Commerce with a meeting for mutual benefit.

The Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce has arranged a good roads meeting along the line suggested by the good roads committee of the local Chamber. N. O. Eldridge, an expert from the office of public roads
at Washington will speak.

Eldridge will spend four days in Marion County beginning Monday.
Both day and evening meetings will be held. The general subject of his address will be "The Maintenance of Public Roads in Indiana."

Mr. Eldridge is coming to Marion county at the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce. Luke W. Duffey, chairman of good roads committee will accompany Mr. Eldridge over the county. The services of H. J. Stevens, county agricultural agent, and Lawrence Miller, county highway superintendent have been obtained
by the good roads committee. Mr.
Stevens and Mr. Miller will co-operate in making Mr. Eldridge's visit a success.

Types of country roads along with a discussion of "Why Every State Should Adopt the Highway Commission and State Aid Plan and the Basic Principles of Road Administration," are some of the topics that will be presented by Mr. Eldridge.

Where electric current is available,
Mr. Eldridge will display stereopit-con slides.

CONGRESSMAN MARRIES

*****

Washington, April 18.—More than three thousand representatives of official and resident society this afternoon attended the wedding of Representative Henry D. Flood, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, to Miss Anna V.
Portner, member of a noted Virginia family. Miss Portner is worth a million in her own right. The wedding at All Soul's church was one of the most brilliant social events since the White House wedding, and because of the prominence of both parties attracted the leading diplomats, cabinet officials, congressmen and senators.

Miss Genevieve Clark, the Speaker's daughter, was one of the bridesmaids. The others were Baroness Marie Bimgarten, Misses Hanna
Taylor, Cornelia, Chagett, Douglas
Fuller of Winchester, Va., and Lucy Martin, daughter of Senator Martin of Va.

The bride is of striking brunette beauty—one of the five sisters known as among the prettiest girls of Washington's social elite.

HOW CHAMP CLARK

Stockton, Cal., April 17.—How Speaker of the House Champ Clark
away back in 1874 applied to him
for a position as teacher in a small village school and got it was told here today by W. N. Rutherford, Prosecuting Attorney of Stockton.
At that time Rutherford was superintendent of schools of Randolph county, Missouri.

"One winter afternoon in 1874,"
said Rutherford, "There was a timid knock at my office door. Opening the door I beheld a well-dressed young man who had the unmistakable appearance of a teacher.

"I should like to know," the young man asked, "if you have any vacancy that I could fill. I have had some little experience as a teacher."

"What is your name?" I asked.

"Champ Clark, sir," was the immediate answer.

"I was so impressed with the business-like manner and tone of the young man that I decided to give him a position immediately. I assigned him to a village school some distance from the county seat and he made good in a hurry."

RACE QUESTION IS IN SPOTLIGHT

In Spite of Mexican Muddle and Panama Tolls Discussion, it is Vexing Topic at Washington.

MANY NEGROES WORK FOR U. S.

22,540 in Employ and They Draw
Combined Salary of $12,456,760
Segregation Bill

BY BURTON K. STANDISH

Washington, April 18.—The race
problem, in these days of the vexing
Mexican question and the free tolls
muddle, is one that is taking its fair
share of the Capital spot light. The
appointment by President Wilson of
Robert H. Terrell a negro to judge
of the District Municipal Court,
which Southern Senators are opposing, served to accentuate the stir in
the House by Representative Aswell
of Louisiana, providing for the segregation of white and black governmental clerks under the Civil Service.

There are today 22,540 negroes in
the employ of the United States government, who draw down a total of $12,456,760 a year. Of these negroes,
4,426 are in the army; 1,529 are in the navy, and 2,140 are in the various navy yards and stations. Of
the rest 6,247 with a payroll of $4,099,116 are employed in Washing-
ton and the remainder work in gov-
United States. Twenty-seven negroes
are employed in the White House,
26 in the State Department; 926 in
the Treasury; 170 in the War Department; 174 in the Navy Department; 87 in the Postoffice Department; 593 in the Interior Department;
43 in the Department of Justice; 164
in the Department of Agriculture;
239 in the Government Printing Office;
41 in the Interstate Commerce Com-
mission; 115 in the Senate Office
Building; 46 in the Congressional
Library; 171 in the Washington
Postoffice; 2,413 in the District of Columbia local government.

In the department service outside
of Washington, 16 negroes are employed in the diplomatic and consular
service; 1,082 in the Treasury
branches; 2,342 in the War Department; 3,599 in the Postoffice Department; 31 in the Interior Department;
102 in the Department of Agriculture; and 775 miscellaneous.

There are 635 negroes employed by the Government in New York; 670 in Chicago; 195 in St. Louis, from 40
to 90 in the other large cities of the
country and 14,130 in miscellaneous
towns.

The appointment by the President
of Terrell to be municipal judge
promises to bring on as warm a little
time. Senators John Sharp Williams
and James K. Vardaman of Miss-
Edison of South Carolina have boasted that the Senate will never
confirm Terrell. All of the Southern senators will support them.

Speaking for his segregation bill in
committee, Representative Aswell explained that its object was to make
it necessary for white government
employees, especially women to work
under or alongside of negroes in the departments. Aswell said:

"The Almighty by the stamp of
color decreed that the Caucasian
race should occupy positions of
authority and control the destinies of
the country. Fear of losing the
personal desire for office through his
vote which are the real cause of
existing conditions, are usually
covered by the pretense of justice.

"If we would be just to each race
we could recognize the eternal fitness of things in this government as
know that this is a white man's
country whose future is to be controlled by the Caucasian race.

"It is unjust to a member of this
inferior race to put him in position
of authority, even over his own race.

"Every informed and right-thinking white man while sympathizing
with and anxious to help the negro

in his place, recognizes the necessity
of preserving the integrity and
supremacy of the white race. No
nation ever destroyed itself except
race.

"Are we blindly drifting that way?
The United States is peculiarly com-
missioned to lead all other nations
not only in the purity of race quality
but in world problems of just and
wise government.

"The purpose of this bill is to
check a bad tendency in this country
before it is too late, and cause thinking people everywhere to find themselves in relation to the race problem, and thus deal fairly and give
justice to both races."

COMES OVER TO
THE G. O. P. CAMP

Thomas Bauer, Mayor of Lafayette,
Republicans Strongest.

IN LEADERS AND NUMBERS

Have Same Views, He Argues, and
Why Should a House be Divided
Against Itself?

Lafayette, Ind., April 18.—Thomas Bauer mayor of Lafayette, who
ran on a citizens' ticket, which was
made possible by a coalition of the Republicans and Progressives, has embittered the Bull Moosers by de-
serting their organization and going
over to the Republican party. He
has made no public statement, but
he is known to favor amalgamation
of the Progressives and Republicans
and the dissolution of the Moosers
as a separate political organization.

The Progressives are denouncing Bauer bitterly. They charge that up
to the time he was elected mayor of Lafayette he championed the Progressive cause. After election he
began treating the Bull Moose leaders coolly and in his appointments
he failed to recognize any of the
active workers of the party, all the
plums going to dyed-in-the-wool Republicans and to Progressives who
were never known as such until he
appointed them and labeled them
Progressive appointees.

Mr. Bauer says he believes the rebuke administered to the Republican
organization in 1912 by the Progressive element in the party was entirely justifiable. He believes that the
party has awakened and that the
sole hope of the nation lies in the restoration of the G. O. P. to power.

The free trade bug, has paralyzed
the business of the nation. His
business, he says, has fallen off materially. He deplores the fact that American labor must compete with
the poorly paid labor of Europe.

"The Republican and Progressive

parties have the same end in view,"
he said. "Then why should the
house remain divided against itself
and let the minority party run the
government. He thinks of
the two parties the Republi-
can party is the stronger num-
erically and in the quality of its leaders. The small difference in the
should not be allowed to stand in the
way of an amalgamation. The Pro-
gressives he says, should go back to
the mother party and redeem the
country from the Democrats. He
denounces the Wilson administration
as a foe to prosperity.

He thinks Tippecanoe county will
be carried by the Republicans this
fall because of the split in the Democratic party here.

Mayor Bauer, though not an active
worker in the Progressive party here
was sent as a delegate to the national convention in Chicago where Roosevelt was nominated. He has
been lukewarm in Progressive activity since last year, and has not attended any Progressive meetings
since the 1912 campaign.

REPUBLICAN'S
NEW FEATURE.

The Daily Republican has arranged for a new feature which will appear regularly in the very near future. Each day the Republican will print needlework
and dress goods patterns of the very latest designs, with the accompanying explanation and description. They are Ladies' Home Journal patterns and should be of interest to every woman who reads the Republican. The Republican feels that it is filling a special need in arranging for this service, because the patterns will be of immense value to all women. The needlework patterns are Margaret Lawrence, who is known to most every woman for her work along this line.

The baseball season of 1914 will be officially opened tomorrow as far as Rushville is concerned, when the Arcadians take on the United States Navy team of Indianapolis. The Arcadians take on the United States given above. Manager Fisher has received word from all his players that they will be here and a great game is expected. A great crowd is looked for tomorrow if the weather is favorable. As has been announced Mayor Behout will throw the first ball and then the game will be on.

The Navy team should give the Arcadians a good battle. They have practically the same team as last year when they defeated such teams as the Loganport Ottos, Columbus and many other fast semi-pro teams. They played a fifteen inning tie with the Duesseldorfers. Rice, who will pitch for the visitors will be remembered by the fans. He pitched the last five innings for the Arlington Red Sox here last fall and held the Arcadians without a run.

The work on the grounds will be completed in time for the game. While the diamond will not be as fast as it will be in two or three weeks it will be in shape however for the game. The fans will be given a surprise. The park as it is today presents a very beautiful appearance and Rushville has one of the best parks now of any team around here. The diamond has been sodded and the outfield has been leveled.

Manager Fisher believes he has succeeded in lining up a fast bunch of players. Some of them are known to the fans but there will be several new faces. Fisse at second, Johannes at short, O'Dell in right and James and Tomlin the pitchers are the new men.

The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock and as has been the custom in the past ladies will be admitted free at the gate.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY.

(By United Press.)

San Francisco, April 18.—Today was observed throughout California as "Fire Prevention Day" and more than a thousand prominent insurance men were guests of the Panama Pacific Exposition officials. The visit of the insurance men to the exposition grounds marked the recovery of San Francisco from the disaster of 1906 and was an "eight-year-after" celebration. All the means of fire prevention to be used on the fair grounds were exhibited and a demonstration of the municipal high-pressure system also was given under the direction of Fire Chief Murphy.

4,000 Riders Take Part in Contests
at Sacramento.

(By United Press.)

Sacramento, Cal., April 18.—What promises to be the biggest motorcycle race met held in the United States will formally open tonight with a decorated motorcycle parade. Awards will be made to owners of the most attractive turnout. More than 4,000 riders from many sections of the country were expected here by tonight or tomorrow when the races are to be held at the fair grounds. Tours have been arranged from many cities of California, and awards are offered for the largest representation from any one city. A prize will also be awarded to the individual motorcyclist who rides his machine the longest distance to attend the meet. Tomorrow's events will be run under the auspices of the Federation of American Motorcyclists.

EUGENICS WILL PLAY BIG PART

in 500 Mile Race is Ordered
by Management

(Special to the Daily Republican)

Indianapolis, April 18.—Eugenics are to play an even bigger part in automobile racing than in marriage, a strict examination of all contestants in the next Indianapolis five-hundred-mile race having been ordered by the management. Medical certificates, certifying physical fitness, freedom from chronic diseases, high blood pressure, the absence of serious nervous manifestations, and other indications of grave disorders will be required at least five days prior to the contest.

The move is taken to reduce to a minimum the chance of accident during the contest. Motor marathoning, such as the five-hundred-mile race, is about the most exhausting sport in the entire category. Moreover, an accident is liable to result not only in a number of fatalities, something which is true of no other form of pastime, where a spill is usually of little consequence. Every precaution is being taken, therefore to insure skill of eye and strength of hand at the crucial moment.

Found Relief.

Sterling, Conn.—"I am a girl of 22 years and I used to faint away every month and was very weak. I was also bothered a lot with female weakness. I read your little book 'Wisdom for Women,' and I saw how others had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and it has made me feel like a new girl and I am now relieved of all these troubles. I hope all young girls will get relief as I have. I never felt better in my life."—Miss BERTHA A. PELOQUIN, Box 116, Sterling, Conn.

Massena, N. Y.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I highly recommend it. If anyone wants to write to me I will gladly tell her about my case. I was certainly in a bad condition as my blood was all turning to water. I had pimples on my face and a bad color, and for five years I had been troubled with suppression. The doctors called it 'Anemia and Exhaustion,' and said I was all run down, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me out all right."—Miss LAVISA MYRES, Box 74, Massena, N. Y.

Young Girls, Heed This Advice.

Girls who are troubled with painful irregular periods, headache, backache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. # THE CASE OF JENNIE BRICE

CHAPTER XI.

THE prosecution produced many witnesses during the next two days; Shanty Boat Tim's story withstood the most vigorous cross examination. After him, Mr. Bronson from the theater corroborated Miss Hope's story of Jennie Brice's attack of hysteria in the dressing room and told of taking her home that night.

He was a poor witness, nervous and halting. He weighed each word before he said it, and made a general unfavorable impression. I thought he was holding something back. In view of what Mr. Pitman would have called the denouement, his attitude is easily explained. But I was puzzled then.

So far, the prosecution had touched but lightly on the possible motive for a crime—the woman. But on the third day, to my surprise, a Mrs. Agnes Murray was called. It was the Mrs. Murray I had seen at the morgue.

She was a widow, living above a small millinery shop on Federal street, Allegheny. She had one daughter, Alice, who did stenography and typing as a means of livelihood. She had no office and worked at home. Many of the small stores in the neighborhood employed her to send out their bills. There was a card at the street entrance beside the shop, and now and then strangers brought her work.

Early in December the prisoner had brought her the manuscript of a play to type, and from that time on he came frequently, sometimes every day, bringing a few sheets of manuscript at a time. Sometimes he came without any manuscript and would sit and talk while he smoked a cigarette. They had thought him unmarried.

On Wednesday, Feb. 28, Alice Murray had disappeared. She had taken some of her clothing—not all—and had left a note. The witness read the note aloud in a trembling voice:

Dear Mother—When you get this I shall be married to Mr. Ladley. Don't worry. Will write again from N. Y. Lovingly, ALICE.

From that time until a week before, she had not heard from her daughter. Then she had a card, mailed from Madison Square station, New York city. The card merely said:

Am well and working. ALICE.

The defense was visibly shaken. They had not expected this, and I thought even Mr. Ladley, whose calm had continued unbroken, paled.

So far all had gone well for the prosecution. They had proved a crime, as nearly as circumstantial evidence could prove a crime, and they had established a motive. But in the identification of the body so far they had failed. The prosecution "rested," as they say, although they didn't rest much on the afternoon of the third day.

The defense called, first of all, Eliza Shaeffer. She told of a woman answering the general description of Jennie Brice having spent two days at the Shaeffer farm at Horner. Being shown photographs of Jennie Brice, she said she thought it was the same woman, but was not certain. She told further of the woman leaving unexpectedly on Wednesday of that week from Thornville. On cross examination being shown the small photograph which Mr. Graves had shown me, she identified the woman in the group as being the woman in question. As the face was in shadow, knew it more by the dress and hat. She described the black and white dress and the hat with red trimming.

The defense then called me. I had to admit that the dress and hat as described were almost certainly the ones I had seen on the bed in Jennie Brice's room the day before she disappeared. I could not say definitely whether the woman in the photograph was Jennie Brice or not; under a magnifying glass thought it might be.

Defense called Jonathan Alexander,

Whiskey or Beer Habit

Any wife or mother who wants to save her husband or son from "Drink" will be glad to know that she can purchase ORRINE, the standard liquor habit remedy, that we have sold for years, and if no benefit is obtained after a trial the money will be refunded.

ORRINE is prepared in two forms: No. 1, secret treatment, a powder, absolutely tasteless and odorless, given secretly in food or drink; ORRINE No. 2, in pill form, is for those who desire to take voluntary treatment. ORRINE costs only 1.00 a box. Come in and get a free booklet about ORRINE.

a druggist who testified that on the night in question he had been roused at half past 3 by the prisoner, who had said his wife was ill, and had purchased a bottle of proprietary remedy from him. His identification was absolute.

The defense called Jennie Brice's sister, and endeavored to prove that Jennie Brice had had no such scar. It was shown that she was on intimate terms with her family and would hardly have concealed an operation of any gravity from them.

The defense scored that day. They had shown that the prisoner had told the truth when he said he had gone to a pharmacy for medicine that night for his wife, and they had shown that a woman, answering the description of Jennie Brice, spent two days in a town called Horner, and had gone from there on Wednesday after the crime. And they had shown that this woman was attired as Jennie Brice had been.

That was the way things stood on the afternoon of the fourth day when court adjourned.

Mr. Reynolds was at home when I got there. He had been very much

"That's curious!" he said.

subdued since the developments of that first day of the trial, sat mostly in his own room and had twice brought me a bunch of jonquills as a peace offering. He had the kettle boiling when I got home.

"You have had a number of visitors," he said. "Our young friend Howell has been here, and Mr. Holcombe has arrived and has a man in his room."

Mr. Holcombe came down a moment after, with his face beaming.

But further than that he would not explain. He said he had a witness locked in his room, and he'd be glad of supper for him, as they'd both come a long way. And he went out and bought some oysters and a bottle or two of beer. But as far as I know he kept him locked up all that night in the second story front room. I don't think the man knew he was a prisoner. I went in to turn down the bed, and he was sitting by the window, reading the evening paper's account of the trial—an elderly gentleman, rather professional looking.

Mr. Holcombe slept on the upper landing of the hall that night, rolled in a blanket—not that I think his witness even thought of escaping, but the little man was taking no chances.

At 8 o'clock that night the bell rang. It was Mr. Howell. I admitted him myself, and he followed me back to the dining room. I had not seen him for several weeks, and the change in him startled me. He was dressed carefully, but his eyes were sunken in his head, and he looked as if he had not slept for days.

Mr. Reynolds had gone upstairs, not finding me socially inclined.

"You haven't been sick, Mr. Howell, have you?" I asked.

"Oh, no, I'm well enough. I've been traveling about. Those infernal sleeping cars—"

His voice trailed off, and I saw him looking at my mother's picture, with the jonquills beneath.

"That's curious!" he said, going closer. "It—it looks almost like Lida Harvey."

"My mother?" I said simply.

"Have you seen her lately?"

"My mother?" I asked, startled.

"No, Lida."

"Here?"

"Yes; she came here, Mr. Howell, two weeks ago. She looks badly—as if she is worrying."

"Not about me?" he asked eagerly.

young things, each sick for a sight of the other, and, from wishing they could have a minute together, I got to planning it for them.

"Perhaps," I said finally, "if you want it very much—"

"Very much!"

He came right over and put his arms around me.

"Who are you, anyhow?" he said. "You who turn to the world the frozen mask of a Union street boarding house landlady, who are a gentlewoman by every instinct and training; and a girl at heart? Who are you?"

"I'll tell you what I am," I said. "I'm a romantic old fool, and you'd better let me do this quickly before I change my mind."

He freed me at that, but he followed to the telephone and stood by while I got Lida. He was in a perfect frenzy of anxiety, turning red and white by turns, and in the middle of the conversation taking the receiver bodily from me and holding it to his own ear. She said she thought she could get away; she spoke guardedly as if Alma were near, but I gathered that she would come as soon as she could, and from the way her voice broke, I knew she was as excited as the boy beside me.

She came, heavily coated and veiled, at a quarter after 10 that night, and I took her back to the dining room, where he was waiting. He did not make a move toward her, but stood there with his very lips white, looking at her. And at first she did not make a move either, but stood and gazed at him, thin and white, a wreck of himself. Then:

"Ell!" she cried, and ran around the table to him as he held out his arms.

The schoolteacher was out. I went into the parlor bedroom and sat in the cozy corner in the dark. I had done a wrong thing, and I was glad of it. And, sitting there in the darkness, I went over my life again. After all, it had been my own life; I had lived it; no one else had shaped it for me. And if it was cheerless and colorless now, it had had its big moments. Life is measured by big moments.

If I let the two children in the dining room have fifteen big moments instead of five who can blame me?

The next day was the sensational one of the trial. We went through every phase of conviction: Jennie Brice was living. Jennie Brice, was dead. The body found at Sewickley could not be Jennie Brice's. The body found at Sewickley was Jennie Brice's. And so it went on.

The defense did an unexpected thing in putting Mr. Ladley on the stand. That day, for the first time, he showed the wear and tear of the ordeal. He had no flower in his buttonhole, and the rims of his eyes were red. But he was quite cool. His stage training had taught him not only to endure the eyes of the crowd, but to find in its gaze a sort of stimulant. He made a good witness I must admit.

He replied to the usual questions easily. After five minutes or so Mr. Llewellyn got down to work.

WILLIAM JOHNSON DIES AT ARLINGTON

SON AND DAUGHTER SURVIVE

The funeral services of William Johnson, age seventy-six years, who died yesterday at his home west of Arlington, will be held Sunday. He has been sick for some time, suffering from asthma, but his condition was not considered critical until five days ago when he developed a severe case of double pneumonia. His death while very sudden and was expected, as his relatives and the attending physician knew a few days ago that his constitution was not strong enough to ward off the ravages of the disease.

Mr. Johnson was a native of Kentucky, but he had made this state his home for thirty years, having removed to the community in which he died when he left his native home.

He was a member of the Christian church at Arlington and was an ardent worker in it. His wife died several years ago and since that time he had been making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Will Ray. The only other near surviving relative is a son, Theodore Johnston, of Rush county.

WILL STAND TRIAL IN CIRCUIT COURT

Fake Magazine Solicitor Who Operated Here is Held in Shelbyville on an Affidavit.

Thomas K. Wilkins, the magazine taker who sold subscriptions to popular magazines at greatly reduced prices "for cash" in Connorsville and later continued his operations in this city, will have to stand trial in the circuit court at Shelbyville where he was arrested for carrying on a fraud scheme.

The assistant chief of police of Shelbyville has received a letter from the Globe Circulating agency of Milwaukee regarding Wilkins. The letter contains much information about the man, but it fails to make mention of any reward. In fact, it asserts that the Milwaukee company has nothing to do with the magazines the man has been selling here, the only one they handle, according to the letter being Home Instructor, published at Quincy, Ill. Acting on the company's recommendation Mr. Marsh has written to the publishers of Today's Magazine at Canton, Ohio, this being one of the periodicals he was selling. The letter indicates that the company has lost track of Wilkins and that they had been unable to reach him by mail since February 24, all their letters being returned to them as unclaimed.

TO PLAY AT GLENWOOD.

"The Man From Borneo," the play which was given with such success by the Arlington high school at Arlington last week, will be given at Glenwood in the Mingle hall Saturday evening, April 25.

United States Army Is All Prepared for War

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 18.—The United States army is ready for war.

Secretary of war Garrison said this afternoon:

He indicated a request by Senator Sheppard of Texas for more troops on the border would be met. General Bliss wired Garrison that he will send troops along the border to find the exact needs at every portion and the secretary intimated that this might mean an increase in the force later.

up here don't know about the Mexicans' character," he said, "and that is that they would quibble until after Christmas if they were permitted to do so. But when they are forced to act one way or another, they can generally be induced to do so."

Senators were inclined to believe that the President has been urged to fix a time limit in which Huerta should be forced to meet the demands of the government. They think that this time limit will probably be before the fleet gets to Mexican waters in order to prove conclusively that the mass of Mexicans will tolerate no further temporizing.

The armored cruiser South Dakota today proceeded from Puget Sound, Washington to San Diego. Orders sent from the navy department to the South Dakota calls for picking up marines at Mare Island. The Jupiter was ordered to ship any remaining marines and sail at once for San Diego.

$50,000 FIRE AT WINONA

At Noon 21 Cottages Had Burned and Flames Were Unchecked.

(By United Press.)

Fort Wayne, Ind., April 18.—The fire department from this city was sent to Winona Lake forty miles west of here at noon today to help a fierce fire that has been raging this morning. At one o'clock 21 cottages had been burned and dynamite was being used to check the flames. The handsome summer cottage of Billie Sunday, the evangelist, was endangered by the fire. The loss at noon amounted to $50,000.

That it be urged that all property owners connect their closets with sewers. It was pointed out that this is where danger lurks, especially in the summer time. The closets where open vaults exist are not only a breeding house for germs carrying and especially typhoid flies, but they have a very bad odor and are infested with rats. There is no defense, the committee showed, for the open vault. It is sure to be a harboring place for germs.

That the city board of health enforce the ordinance compelling residents to have closed garbage cans and keep them clean. The open garbage can especially is a breeding hive for flies. The enforcement of this ordinance, it is pointed out, would lessen the number of flies.

That the ordinance calling for closed manure boxes be enforced. The open manure pen is another favorite spot of the flies where they multiply fast and thrive. The ordinance calls for closed boxes all over the city and the committee believes that it should be effective.

The committee urged that the people of Rushville try to conform with the orders of the health board to the end that this might be a cleaner and healthier city.

The fakes and fakirs committee, it is believed, will have a valuable work to do. A case in point has come to light. A few weeks ago a stranger was in the city one Saturday selling an imitation of a much advertised chewing gum at a greatly reduced price. He represented himself as a veteran of the Spanish American war and therefore escaped a license fee.

It was later discovered that the real man who had charge of the business was not a veteran of any war, but that he was using the Spanish-American war as a blind. After the sale was concluded, the men retired to a livery barn where the funds were turned over the man putting on the sale and the helper was paid for his day's work.

spect, the postmaster-general in asking the members of congress for his recommendation calls special attention to the fact that under existing executive orders selections must be made by the department with sole reference to merit and fitness of any recommendation made to him must be based solely upon such considerations and without reference to the political affiliations of the eligibles.

HOUSE BEING MOVED BURNS TO GROUND

Fire believed to have been of incendiary origin destroyed a house owned by George C. Wyatt, this morning shortly after two o'clock. The house was being moved to a lot owned by Mr. Wyatt in Spencer street, south of Third street. It is believed that some one set fire to the house, but the police have no clues.

The loss was very small although the house was destroyed. It was a small frame dwelling and Mr. Wyatt intended placing it on a lot in that street, and after making some repairs to rent it. The house seemed to be on fire all over the roof when the department arrived. Ed Benedict lost several valuable tools which were in the house. What was left of the house was torn down this morning and burned.

A. J. BEVERIDGE IS NAMED FOR SENATE

Former Senator Accepts Nomination at Progressive State Convention This Afternoon.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 18.—Former Senator Albert J. Beveridge this afternoon was nominated for United States senator at the Progressive state convention and accepted. The convention this afternoon unanimously adopted the report of the resolutions committee favoring referendum, statewide prohibition and a federal amendment for national prohibition. The watchful waiting policy of the national administration was condemned.

Chairman Lee rapped the convention to order at nine-thirty. When Beveridge appeared there was a burst of applause, which was the first indication on the convention floor of any centralized interest. Delegates marched up and down the floor for 16 minutes cheering Beveridge.
